

Big Woods Tripod

TM

Fun Enjoy the sight, smell, and taste!

Easy Light a campfire and you're cooking!

Simple Easy to carry, set-up and adjust.

Economical Use wood, a renewable resource.

The Big Woods Tripod™ is heavy-duty made of steel at the blacksmith's forge and finished with a natural linseed oil based finish. The design is an inspired evolution based on years of experience at the forge and at the campfire.

The Big Woods Tripod™ is handforged by blacksmith Daniel Butt and family who live and work in the Big Woods area of Wisconsin described in Laura Ingalls Wilder's Little House books.

Adjustable grill kit enclosed. Cable with attached grill hooks and sliding handle.

Use and care instructions inside.

BIG WOODS TRIPOD

Setup: Locate all the parts - tripod, cable with sliding handle and three grill hooks, and grill. First slide handle onto and up a tripod leg. Then put the assembled hooks on cable through the tripod's small circle. Hook open ends of each grill hook on grill at points approximately equal (1/3) distance around the outside rim of the grill (hook inside to outside of grill).

Use: Handle will hold with weight of grill on the cable. Tilt the handle up and then slide to adjust the height of the grill. If grill is heavy, use one hand in front of handle to tip handle down and one hand on back of handle to tip up, or use hand to hold or lift cable near the top and then tip and slide the handle. (CAUTION: Be careful of hot metal; check and be sure, and/or use hot pads). When cooking set grill height at top of highest flame. When fire is reduced to coals, place grill height 1-3" above glowing coals. Dutch ovens or pots may be hung from the three hook assembly; use one or two hooks only (not all three) to hang pot or dutch oven for easy on/off.

Care: Tripod and hooks should be coated yearly with linseed oil (food based oil). Food grill should be cleaned as necessary for appearance and food safety.

WARNING: Tripod is for cooking. Do NOT use for overhead or other lifting.
